THE 1941

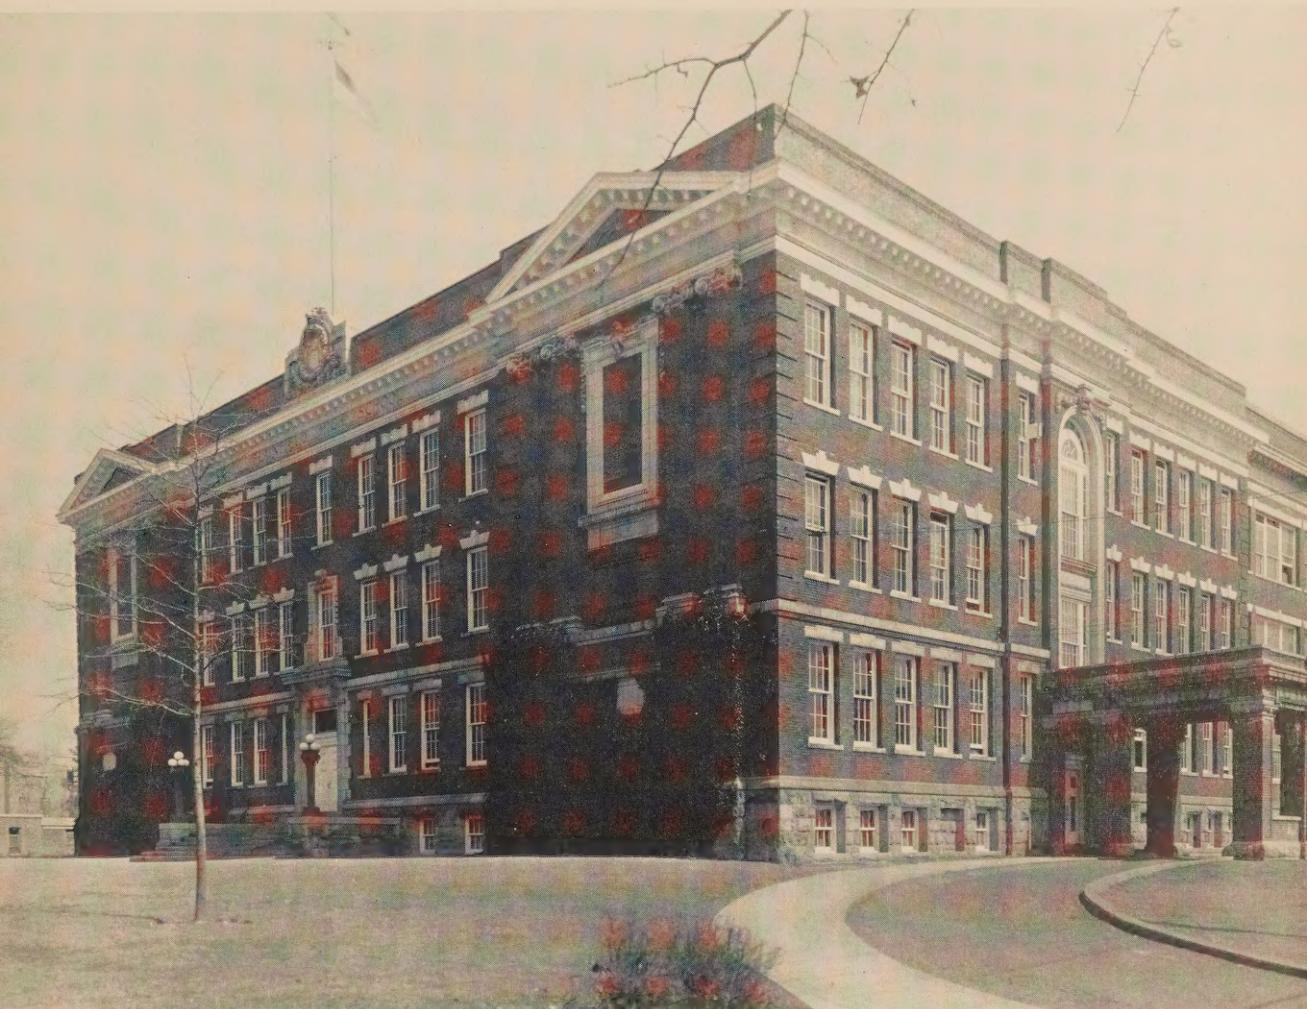

MILESTONE

A VIEW OF ALL SIDES OF STUDENT LIFE

PUBLISHED IN PLAINFIELD, NEW JERSEY

AT PLAINFIELD HIGH SCHOOL

BY THE SENIOR CLASS OF 1941

THE SENIOR CLASS

To Miss Bodenheimer

- for her understanding of our problems;
- for her patience and sympathy in all situations;
- for her service to the students of Plainfield High;
- for her friendship in being “one of us”;

the class of 1941 dedicates this volume with admiration and sincere appreciation.

*Always serving, always working,
One on whom we can depend—
We're honored to have known her,
We're proud to call her friend.*

DEDICATES THIS VOLUME

TO Miss Sadie Bodenheimer

Doctor Jones

In seven brief years as principal of PHS, Dr. Galen Jones has done much to raise the standards of the school ever higher. He has gained the respect and admiration of teachers and pupils alike for his constant understanding, impartiality, and his ability to handle any situation expertly.

We the seniors of 1941, wish to express our deepest gratitude to Dr. Jones for the help and inspiration which he has given all of us.

Mr. Hubbard

It is impossible to remain long in school without coming to know and admire Mr. Henry Hubbard, vice-principal of PHS. Many of us have found him a patient and expert biology teacher; others have seen him as a learned music-lover; all have known him as a friend.

SENIOR WRITE-UPS

Looking Ahead

1941 was a great year for a great class! Under the able leadership of Bill Rothfuss, president, Tom Quarles, vice-president, Dotty Rothberg, secretary for the fourth year, and Norman Hobbib, treasurer, we put on a super senior play, "In a House Like This," starring such talented actors and actresses as Ralph Briggs, Aleida Stomps, Wilbur Gundlach, Nancy Baker, Connie Rosenkrans, John Callahan (remember the way he made love), Bruce Kriney, Cornelia Wales, Don Adams, Lois O'Neill, Ray Hoffman, June Mathewson, and Elizabeth Kenney.

Sitting: Albert Stein, Thomas Quarles,
William Rothfuss, Norman Hobbib,
Wayne LaPoe.

Standing: Al Lawson, David Ritchie,
Walter Awe, Jacques Loizeaux, Nicholas
Medrocostis, Charles Banks.

The Power Behind The President

The senior executive council, composed of two members of each senior homeroom, is a small working body which governs the activities of the senior class and ably extends the democratic form of government to the students thereof. The council is also a means for these students to express their opinions more directly to the class executives. Presided over by class president Bill Rothfuss, the council acts with the advice of Mr. John Boyer, class adviser. During the past season such senior business as the cap and gown measurements, senior play, and senior-junior prom, have been worked out by the council.

... BUT OH, WHAT A PAST!

The student council was led by outstanding seniors, with Phil Weisbecker as president, Harry Rhodes as vice-president, Eleanor Goldberg as secretary, and Martha Grace Ellis, treasurer.

June 6 was a red letter day, for that was the date of the senior-junior prom—a dance never to be forgotten.

But the real climax of a perfect year was June 19, when, with regretful glances behind us but with high hopes for the future, we donned our caps and gowns and ended our career in PHS forever.

MARGARET THERESA GALVIN

418 West Fifth Street

"Margie" is well-known around PHS for her cheerfulness and her love of sports. Her favorite sports are tennis and baseball.

REGINA I. MAGER

1415 West Fourth Street

"Ginny" took an accounting course in preparation for a job after graduation. She was in the world friendship club 1, 2; patrol 2, 3, 4; and archery 3. She likes to dance and "listen to Tommy Dorsey."

MARTIN S. NONESTEID

1464 McCrea Place

Martin hopes some day to teach piano, and he has played in school many times. After graduation he hopes to go to a U. S. government school of aeronautics.

MARY E. QUEMAN

813 West Fourth Street

Mary was only in PHS one year. Her hobby is collecting and raising flowers. She enjoys swimming in summer and music in winter. Nursing at St. Barnabas Hospital in Newark will occupy her immediate future.

CHARLES DOUGLAS WARE

1211 Putnam Avenue

Charles is one of PHS's old standbys. He is as yet uncertain as to his future after graduation.

RAYMOND WARE

309 Pemberton Avenue

Ray's chief interests lie in sports—football, baseball, hockey, and swimming. He is also fond of music. Ray took the general course and is going to the University of Michigan.

THE MILE

Editorial Staff

Clusters of black characters form, change, disappear, and form again, as Martha Grace Ellis, literary editor of Milestone, writes, types and rewrites hundreds and hundreds of senior write-ups.

"Has anyone seen the pictures and indentifications of the sophomore class?" "Who's this boy in the third row?"—"Oh, dear!" sighs undergraduate editor, Joan Lynch, while the rest of the staff, John Cutting, Ronnie Ruf, Janice Terrill, Dick Pierson, and Henry Lentzch finish up literary odds and ends.

"Say—can you tell me . . . ? "Well, I'll be——! What're you doing here? School was out hours ago!"

"And the Milestone staff goes marching on!"

Piled high in problems is Peggy Smith, editor-in-chief, while Bill MacClarence, managing editor, and Howard Kellberg, photography editor, slave away over copy and mark photos for the printers.

"Has anyone seen the write-up on the glee club?" demands Jean McGlone, organizations editor; while Al Lawson, sports editor, makes a crusade of the room to get the identifications for the sports pictures and add finishing touches to the sports section.

"Should we put this head up and down or across?" Philip Weisbecker, make-up editor, asks the co-make-up editor, Harrison Rhodes.

And so, on into the late afternoon, during study periods, (and Easter vacations), the yearbook editorial staff struggles to meet the deadlines and produce the 1941 edition of Milestone.

STONE STAFF

This business staff of the 1941 Milestone was headed by Tom Quarles, with advertising manager Tom Rogers and circulation manager Don Adams. After getting off to a fair start in the first subscription campaign, the circulation staff with earnest efforts came smashing through the end of the second subscription campaign with a new high record of 532 copies sold. Chief accountant Alice McElhone was an "indispensable man" in connection with the subscription campaign and deserved high praise along with the rest for her loyalty and hard work. Art Gruneisen, Martha Johnson, and Orma Thompson also accounted for a considerable part of the campaigns' success by their striking posters.

Not to be outdone by the circulation staff, the advertising staff also broke a new record by selling more than $400 worth of advertising, another record for Milestone. Much of the staff's success was due to the hard work and time spent by advertising manager Tom Rogers. Jean McDonough acted as salesman on the staff for sale of studio group pictures.

The underclass response to this year's Milestone was especially heartening, largely due to all freshman and sophomore homeroom chairmen who acted as circulation staff representatives, and to the juniors who served on the regular staff. These juniors included George Malzmann, Eleo de Matteo, Donald McVoy, William Parlett, Donald Redfern, and Lester Zega.

Supporting manager Don Adams, the senior staff members were: Stella Bishara, Oscar Braxton, Eleanor Gilman, Eleanor Goldberg, Jeanne Kling, Wayne LaPoe, Helen Moran, Frank Minarck, Jane Robertson, Dan Randolph, John Callahan, Joan deRevere, Aleida Stomps, Roger Whitford, Lois Ammerman, Russ Hoffman, Janice Terrill, and Donald Perelaiko.

Seniors who helped advertising manager Tom Rogers sell ads were: Adele deVitalis, Audrey Drake, Wilbur Gundlach, Norman Hobbib, John Lounsbury, Bill Moore, Jeanne Neale, Betty Jane Reynolds, Alvin Stein, Jeanne Swaysland, and Marjorie Webb.

HALL OF FAME

THE SENIOR CLASS REMEMBERS WHEN . . .

Dates and discipline, Shakespeare and saddle shoes, grammar and glamour—these are the things we seniors will remember about PHS. But we will remember other things too . . .

Sometimes we will think back to the times when we were frightened freshmen, still falling for the elevator gag . . . when Leonard Sibley was our president . . . when we were so proud of ourselves for putting on that super-movie, "So Red the Rose" . . . when we went to our first Hi-Tri dance . . . (and that was the year of the strike!) . . .

Then, suddenly, we were self-confident sophomores . . . when Jeanne Bannister was our president . . . when the school swarmed with gods and goddesses hurrying to rehearsals of "Invisible Controls" . . . and that year we put on a smooth sophomore hop, remember? . . .

Then, before we knew it, overnight it seemed, we had blossomed into jaunty juniors . . . what a year that was! . . . Johnny Lounsbury as president and Bill Rothfuss as vice-president certainly worked hard . . . That was a lucky year for the girls—leap year! . . . when Martha Johnson kept everyone guessing with her Ballantine sign . . . when Bill Moore was afraid to approach girls (imagine!) . . . when all the girls piled their hair in sophisticated "upsweeps" . . . and didn't we put on a wonderful junior production? . . . not just one play, but two: "Dinner for Two" and "Above All" . . . That spring there were lots of mellow dances, but none to top our junior prom . . . Remember how cleverly Nellie Wales carried out the May-day theme? . . .

And at last—sophisticated seniors! . . . didn't the time go quickly, though? . . . this was the year when we were all so excited about getting our pictures taken for the "Milestone" . . . when everyone was guessing about the Hall of Fame . . . when we all got dressed up for character day . . .

Remember how cute Jane Robertson and Joan deRevere looked as Raggedy Ann and Andy? . . . and weren't we proud of Jeanne Neale when she won the D.A.R. award? . . . This was the year when Tom Rogers became famous for the "Mule" . . . when you were out of style unless you had the measles or the mumps . . . when The Entree caused a furore by using lilac perfume on the Easter issue . . . when the evaluators wandered through the halls for a whole week trying to find something the matter with PHS . . . when everyone haunted Blossom Hill day and night . . .

And can anyone forget that hilarious class day program? . . . or that super-super senior-junior prom on June 6, with music by the melodious Merrymen! . . . but the real climax of the whole four years came on the night of June 19, when amidst a choked sob and laughter, flowers and mortar-boards, sighs of relief and regret, we ended our crowded careers in PHS . . .

This year's junior class came near to setting a record for outstanding achievements. Under the able leadership of Buddy Battistella as president, George Malzmann as vice-president, Marye Adams as secretary, and Mary Denny as treasurer, it managed to show up pretty well under the gruelling routine of schoolwork.

The renowned "Junior Revue" was lauded by the keenest critics as a truly great performance. In "Brothers in Battle," a one-act play which was very well received, Jean Hoffman, James Parker, Lester Zega, Bob Krieger, and Jim Pearson displayed their fine acting ability.

A night club was the setting of the second rendition in which more than 100 juniors participated. Many acts were presented with a patriotic finale.

Then there was the junior roller skating party, which was an even greater success than a similar party held last year. The Plainfield Amusement Academy certainly had a gala night when the juniors invaded the premises!

The crowning event of the year's activities was, of course, the Junior-Senior Prom. According to the tradition of all Junior-Senior Proms it was held in the boys' gym in June. Mellow music—soft lights—swell decorations—all contributed to make this climax really worthy of its place in the history of the class of 1942!

Two Men in a Horse.

With the energy and originality of "Mephisto," the wonder horse in the junior revue, the junior class has galloped over the year making history on the track, on the field, in the classroom, on the stage, and in the arts!

Under the leadership of Walter Battistella (president), George Malzmann (vice president), Marye Adams (secretary), and Mary Denny (treasurer), their first really big affair was held on December 6 and 7, when the high school stage was transformed into a night club for the junior revue. Featured were "A La Carte," the "Ozark Triangle," and the burlesque, "The Villain Still Pursues Her"—in addition to many variety stunts, musical and dance routines, and a lot of real fun for the huge cast and the audience.

In dramatic talent, Jean Hoffman, James Parker, Robert Kreiger, Lester Zega, and James Pearson walked off with the honors in "Brothers In Battle," a one act play with the setting Christmas Eve, also given in the revue.

And then the junior class proved that it could fall hard, and not mind it, at the skating party March 22, which added $75 to one of the largest treasuries any class has ever had. Among the highlights was Mildred Galloway's solo number and the "Moonlight."

As far as literary ability is concerned there have been no sluggards in this class, with all but one member of The Entree editorial staff being juniors.

Then, as they rounded the turn and started down the home stretch, came the highlight of the year. Combined for the first time with the senior class, the junior-senior prom June 6, built around the theme of spring. George Malzmann was junior class chairman.

With such a running start, the junior class promises to be out in front next year, running for the best year of achievements and enjoyment in high school history.

Those bewildered freshmen of last year finally grew up (believe it or not) and have blossomed into gay, sophisticated sophomores! Ushering the new term in with a band, President Kevin Fitzpatrick worked tirelessly for the presentation of "The Last of the Mohicans" which netted the sophs a neat profit. In March, with the support of vice-president Ralph Jacobs, treas-

First row: Ryno, Banks, Gruneisen, Foley, Curka, Yannotta, Redd.

Third row: Timpson, Owens, Black, Crowley, Rothfuss, R. Hoffman, De Matteo, Trabilsy.

The record of the Plainfield High School football team of 1940-41 was spotty. In eight contests they won one, tied one, and lost six. From the first whistle to the last, the fates seemed to be against the team. The course was a hard and disappointing one, but make no mistake! the team wanted no excuses. They were beaten fairly and squarely by better teams. They played their hardest and best and had a lot of fun doing it.

The first game with Princeton ended in a 7-0 defeat for PHS after our boys had trampled all over a heavier Princeton team, outrushing, outpassing, and outplaying them. In the next game with Columbia a valiant team was defeated by a better team by a score of 19-0. Bound Brook was the Cards' next opponent and the game ended in a fateful 6-6 tie.

Coach Bill Brann's charges then journeyed to East Orange, only to be defeated in the last quarter by a score of 13-7. Next came the long-to-be-remembered, rather forgotten Morristown game, a score of 27-0 with the Cardinals on the short end.

Now came the contest in which our warriors clashed with their ancient rivals, North Plainfield, who fell before the onslaught of the now formidable Cardinals. The fates were now on our side, at last; a score of 12-13 proved that.

Westfield and West Orange then came and defeated our battle-scarred warriors by scores of 13-0 to wind up an unsuccessful season.

The team had no stars but many meteorites: Joe Curka, Nick "the Greek" Medrocostis, Mickey Foley, Charley Banks, Bill Rothfuss, Mike Yannotta, Bud Owens, Al Ryno, Larry Farina, John Berrier, Al Lawson, "Hurricane" Van Nest, and Ray and Russ Hoffman.

Have you got it? Hip hip—

Yes, it's the cheerleaders! That swell bunch of boys and girls who are always on the job for every football game, all home basketball games, and even some assemblies. They practice once a week and turn out the niftiest cheers for all of us to use.

And say, look at those sharp sweaters—and don't the boys' white flannels look new, too? Well, you bet they are! The cheerleaders sold pins and gave a couple of well-remembered dances to earn the money to outfit themselves completely.

The captains?—why, Lois O'Neill and Irving Perlmutter. They have 12 regular assistants and twelve subs who report for duty at a minute's notice.

BOOTERS

Another of the successful teams under the direction of Coach Harold Bruguiere is the association football team, more commonly known as the soccer team. The team, led by captain Al Ziemenski, succeeded in beating Pingry twice, only to lose a pair to Summit, and to Long Branch. The hardest fray of the season was the Chatham game which was lost in the last five seconds. Seniors on the squad are: Ed Zaremba, Roger Whitford, Frank Santy, Tom Corcoran, Jim Howe, Bill Carson and Bob Marsh.

HILL and DALE

Plainfield's newest entrants into the world of athletic competition enjoyed an extremely favorable season. Walt McGinley and his teammates literally ran all opponents into the ground.

The first school to fall before PHS was Regional. Walt McGinley and Ed Daly finished, tying for first place. Next on the schedule was Rahway with the same result. Then came the only defeat of the season, Thomas Jefferson; although Mac and Ed came in first, there were not enough of their teammates close behind to win the meet. Union was then conquered by the scarlet and blue runners, to conclude the dual meet season.

The State meet was the first on the championship list, and our team captured third place. They placed second in the Union County Championships, and Walt McGinley ended the season by winning the A.A.U. county championship.

First row—W. Ellis, F. Sweeney, R. Milan, W. McGinley, E. Siegrist, A. Lounsbury, L. Pernell.

Second row—W. Parlett, A. Cary, P. Hilly-Swank, L. Rothberg, J. Cunan, C. Daly, R. Hammond, P. Anderson.

Third row—M. Davidson, J. Shuster, W. Saunders, R. Albers, H. Lentsch.

Pass . . . Dribble . . . Shoot

"Foul!—O.K., let'er go!" shouts Coach Bill Brann. Excitement is the theme of basketball, and our team lives up to every letter of the word. PHS has always entered basketball as one of its principal sports. The team of '40-41 excelled in technique, sportsmanship, and oomph. 1941 was almost a complete success. Seniors are: D. Randolph, Nick Medrocostis, Roger Whitford, and Frank Santy.

—Hey, I've Got It!

—Coach Brann Figures It Out

The annual tussle with North Plainfield was necessarily drawn out to three games when the Canucks took the second game, but in the rubber and final game the Cards came through to win the series. Eddie Kane (who with Dan Randolph captained the Plainfield squad) was high scorer for the year. Top score for a single contest was Kochan's twenty-four points in the Westfield game.

Next year's squad will be far better because they will still have most of this year's varsity men—Pluggy Kochan, Bill Smith, Joe Black, Bill Saunders, Eddie Kane, and Red Daley.

SWIMMING TEAM

Burning Up the Water

The team with the best record of any Cardinal squad, the swimming team enjoyed another successful season under the able coaching of Mr. Vic Liske. During the winter season the team won ten meets and lost one to Columbia, after defeating such teams as Montclair, Kearny, Pingry and Asbury Park. Herb Davidson and Bob Milan were the two outstanding men of the team; Herb broke all the school records in the backstroke and Bob was undefeated in the dual meet season. In the state meet at Rutgers, the team placed fourth. The boys who will be lost to next year's squad are: Herb, Bob, Ernie Siegrist, Bill Barry, Harry Rhodes, Buddy Lippman, John Berrier and John Callahan.

Thrills and Spills

Coach Jack Liddy's pucksters were hindered this winter by the lack of ice and had very little opportunity to practice. In their only encounter of the season the team was defeated by Hun and Peddie on the indoor Princeton rink. Mickey Foley and Al Ziemenski each deserve much credit for their stellar goal-tending and offensive work. The team will lose the services of Frank Ackerman, Al Ziemenski, Ed Zaremba, Bob Pearson, and Mickey Foley.

Strike One . . . Strike Two . . . And

This year's baseball team under the direction of Coach Jack Liddy went places. With a battery of "Dutch" Schmidt, Jim Norris, Dan Shewman, and Bill Peterson; and catchers like Nick Medrocostis and Elmer Woodruff, who else could expect the team to do anything but come out playing hard? Ken Hess was our initial sacker and Pluggy Kochan played second, with Ed Kane or Al Ryno on third. Knobby McGrath handled the position of short stop very well. Boys who patrolled the clover were: Frank Santy, Mickey Foley, Stan Jadeski, Joe Black, Ed Zaremba, and Bill Conklin. Only about half of these boys are seniors so next year's team should be even better.

Up and Over

First row: R. Anderson, W. Ellis, H. Rhodes, W. Bristo, R. Balkhaus, W. McGinley, E. Daly, M. Davidson, D. Adams, J. Lounsbury, H. Carter, R. Carpenter, J. Berrier.

Second row: C. Johnson, D. Crone, L. Pernell, Divitchi, J. Boguski, J. Curran, R. Marsh, C. Harris, J. Rossi, W. Rothfuss, J. Lichterman.

Third row: L. Zega, J. Doeberski, W. Parlett, W. Ising, J. Swaysland, L. Slesar, J. Roman, J. Keating, O. Farland, W. Sundlacht, R. Whitford.

Lead by Walt McGinley and Ed Daly the track team under the able direction of Coaches Harold Bruguiere, Alfred Potts, and George Smith, had a very successful season. From the Long Branch Relays in April to the State meet in the end of May the team practiced very hard. Seniors of the track squad were: Roger Whitford, John Lounsbury, and Don Adams in the pole vault; Harry Rhodes and Bill Jeter in the high jump; Ed Hogan in the broad jump; John Berrier, Wilbur Gundlach, Bill Rothfuss, Walt Awe, Al Lawson, and John Cutting in the weights; and Ed Daly, Walt McGinley, Ed Yetman, Herman Carter, Tony Cary, and Bob Hammond in the sprints and distances.

When Love Doesn't Count

First row, left to right: W. Taylor, D. Willis, B. Moore, B. Cuniff, J. Craig, A. Soriano; second row: Coach W. Sette, E. Latham, A. Thompson, T. Campbell, S. Davis, N. Kantor, C. Plainfield High School's "racqueteers" had a very successful season with Jeff Craig as number one man while Will Willis and Ralph Jacobs followed him up. Bill Moore and Ray Hoffman, the team's first string doubles players have won most of their matches, as have also the number two men, Al Soriano and Bill Cuniff.

Coach Bill Sette was pleased with the team's record and believes that next year's team will be still better as his best men are sophomores.

The most interesting matches this year were those with North Plainfield, when Jim Sette, the coach's little brother, represented the team against Plainfield.

FEMININE ATHLETES

One of the most popular of the fall sports is archery. This year was especially successful, the seniors coming through victorious under the leadership of Barbara Juenemann, who won the archery cup.

Just as archery attracts the girls in the fall so tennis draws them in the spring. All the classes participated, but this year the seniors were again the inter-class winners.

Field hockey, the most active of the fall sports, came to a climax this year with two full teams competing. Under the captaincy of Bertha Kulthau, the seniors won a decisive victory over the juniors.

The senior basketball team was also the intramural champion. A large team under the leadership of Margery Beal won by a close margin.

The most popular of the winter sports for girls is badminton. It is restricted to juniors and seniors only. Marguerie Beal led the seniors through another successful season.

The Student Council

The student council of Plainfield High at first was composed of the class and athletic presidents. Its purpose was to discuss the most pressing problems facing the school and often it would meet not more often than twice a year. In the ensuing years, the idea of furthering democracy and representation in the administration of the school became preeminent in the minds of the students. Since then the council has grown in many ways. It has made possible an activity ticket for 1942 which will include all forms of school activities, and has made internal adjustments in its constitution which will allow the council to increase its efficiency by commencing sooner in the fall.

The presiding officers of the year 1940-41 council were: president, Philip Weisbecker; vice-president, Harrison Rhodes; secretary, Eleanor Goldberg; and treasurer, Martha Grace Ellis. The advisers were Miss Iole Moore and Mr. H. F. Daum.

The student council was formed, and has well survived, with one main purpose—the freedom for each and every student to be given an opportunity to state his opinions about the administration of his school. It is through this system of student-government that the student obtains the experience and independence which is a vital part of his education.

The council has extended its voice throughout the state, and it is considered an authority on the organization of county councils.

Organized Book Worms

The library council, composed of 46 students, has a two-fold purpose. Its members aid the school by assisting in the library, serving as desk attendants, preparing and shelving books, doing clerical work, helping prepare bulletin boards and exhibits. The members themselves are taught through lessons, programs, and trips, the important elements in library management and the use of library materials of all kinds. For this work, each member receives one point a year.

The club is sponsored by Miss Josephine E. Miller, Librarian, assisted by Miss Catherine Moraller. Officers for the council of 1940-1941 were: Warren Taylor, president; Joan Harper, vice-president; Ralph Munsie, secretary; and Tilghman Koons, treasurer.

But all is not work in the council! Although most of the work is interesting, they have other kinds of fun too. Their trips are lots of fun and so are the many parties and get-togethers that the members have. It is really an all-around club.

School Traffic Cops

"No, not that way, you must go with the traffic." . . . "These are 'down' stairs." All this may sound bothersome and annoying to you but it is the patrol's job and it has to be done in order to insure smooth school operation. They don't enjoy telling you what to do and what not to do, but it must be done.

The patrol is right on the job from the very first day of school until the last. Keeping the traffic moving smoothly and helping the new comers along is just a part of their duty.

There are one or two captains in every lunch period, whose duty it is to see that all the others are doing what they should and that the cafeteria is kept neat and clean. The Captains are: Regina Mager, Russell Hoffman, Bill Carson, Walter Eddy, Catherine Lonegan, and Marvin Kaplan.

ALTERNATES: Dealaman, A., DeVitalis, A., Harris, C., Hammond, E., Jetter, R., Kessler, K., Nichols, N., Schneider, P., Sutton, J., Wild, J.

After completing its fall schedule—playing at all the football games, the band also played at various service clubs during the year. (The entire group did not play at these, but only a "studio band" made up of some of the members). February 27 was the date of this year's annual band concert which, as usual, was even better than last year's.

With the roll of drums and the crashing of the cymbals our band marches proudly out on the field and the crowds cheer! Seventy of our Plainfield High boys and girls make a bright spectacle as they march along in their red and blue uniforms.

Heading our gay procession are our ten whirling twirlers flashing their silver batons. Drum majorette this year was high-stepping Ida De Lisle. The other prancing "jeunes filles" were: Gloria Huking, Dorothy Wadsworth, Ruth Bradshaw, Lucille De Lisle, Corinne Markey, Geraldine Karner, Florence Isinberg, Desiree Hendrickson, and Carolyn Shack.

Eddie Martin, Don Van Deusen, Jim O'Brien, and Russ Candee beat it out!

Violins: R. Brann, Y. Hyland, M. Wheeler, R. Brown, B. Campbell, E. MacCampbell, S. Candee, J. Carter, B. Kriney, B. Wilks, F. Ferraro, K. Fitzpatrick, J. Fletcher, A. Tamestra, R. Leader, D. Hendrickson. Cello: J. Anderson, M. Colletta, L. Loizeaux, E. Schlichting, A. De Vitalis. French horn: D. Adams, G. Laird, W. Lawrence, B. Kriney. Bass viol: S. Simon, P. Pasquarello. Flute: C. Baer, E. Moses, C. Kircher, W. Langstroth. Trombone: C. Bronston, E. Lassen, R. Cross. Clarinet: E. Martin, C. Rosenkrans, R. Galvin. Drums: C. Anderson, G. Saxophones: E. Martin, D. Van Deusen, H. Smolensky, H. Carter. Brass: T. Quarles, J. Valentino, J. O'Brien, C. Miller, E. Lassen. Rhythm: B. Newmann, S. Simon, R. Candee, A. De Vitalis. Managers: A. Gruneisen, and G. Biven (assistant).

The PHS orchestra this year concentrated its efforts on raising money to send the whole orchestra to Atlantic City for the state festival. After weeks of rehearsal their work was rewarded by a highly successful concert on March 28. The orchestra plays under the able baton of Mr. A. Dwight Brown, who has been directing it for four years.

This year Dorothy Davis (oboe) won membership in the All-State Orchestra; and Clayton Baer won the state flute solo contest and is representing New Jersey in the national contest. Betty Jane Reynolds is concert-master, and has done an excellent job directing the first violin section.

"One! two! three! Swing it! No, No! The brass is too loud. Tone it down. Now start all over again. Now saxes alone. You'd better practice that ride before next Friday when we play in assembly."

It is this we hear from the band room every Tuesday assembly period. You don't know what it is? It's the swing band. And there is Mr. Clarence J. Andrews bravely coaching it in the latest arrangement of modern swing. Its 14 members have been seen much this year at swing band dances and outside programs.

Mr. Andrews, in forming this group, has tried to educate some students in modern musical arrangements, and he has accomplished this purpose with decided success!

Sharps and Flats

If, sometime during the year, you have heard the lovely sound of girls' voices raised in song, you will have probably discovered the A Capella choir, under the direction of Mrs. Mildred R. Searles, rehearsing for a program. There are two choirs, one each for freshmen and the upper classmen, the membership of which totals 100 girls. Another section of the group, the Motet choir, which sings with piano accompaniment, consists of 22 selected voices of the A Capella choir.

The combined choirs gave a most effective program of Lenten music for the assembly before Easter. The Motet choir was also active this spring, giving three outside appearances in April, and singing in the orchestra concert in March. The entire choir participated in the choral festival in May, climaxing a busy schedule.

Raised in Song

The glee club, under the direction of Mr. Howard Savage, is conducted as an unprepared class subject. It is not like other clubs in that it resembles a class, marks are given, and a point is received by members at the end of the year. Therefore there are no club officers; however there is a business manager, Hanna Flanders this year.

JUNIOR CHOIR

GLEE CLUB

First row: D. Wilson, D. Inciso, E. Sweet, H. Cummings, R. Smith, S. Jeffrey, A. Rogers, D. Harris.

Second row: E. Grimmer, P. Powers, E. Davis, E. Marois, I. DeLisle, W. Saft, B. Smith, C. Schaek, S. Sweet, B. Edwards.

Third row: E. Harris, G. Porcella, E. Smith, A. Rinehart, V. Ruf, L. Weite, M. Garnett, V. Glod, Mrs. Texier, adviser.

Fourth row: J. Curran, H. Lentzsch, C. Foley, T. Corcoran, M. Owens, D. Adams, W. Moore, L. Gilmore, R. Cartwright, Mr. Craig, adviser.

Behind the Scenes

Seldom seen and seldom heard are those boys behind the scenes who bang the door (which is the hero's cue), and who ring the telephone at the right moment. (P. S. Being broadminded, we wish to forget the telephone episode of this year's senior play and, therefore, will not mention it!) All in all, these boys are responsible to a large degree for putting over the show.

The stage crew and electricians are the boys who huff and puff between acts to change the scene from a wooded glade to a lavish parlor. Al Posbergh is chief electrician, assisted by Bob Streeton, Sam Rounds, and James Dunn. Bob Campbell and Bob Dillingham are stage managers.

Senior Pep Club

Who makes the school tick? Who gets into all of the activities? The Senior Pep Club, of course! It's the job of this Senior group to back up all the activities in need of backing and to make the wheels of school spirit go around. Those who have led the club this year are: Donald Adams, president; Bill Moore, vice-president; Edith Grimmer, secretary; and Buddy Owens, treasurer.

Remember that hula dancer that was an advertisement for the P.T.A. Bazaar? The water polo queen and king Neptune that advertised the water polo match between the teachers and the students? How about that swell faculty basketball game, pep rally, band and orchestra concerts? Senior Pep Club, stand up and take a bow for the wonderful service and the best year yet, under the advisement of Mr. Philip Y. Craig.

Curtain Going Up! . . .

DRAMATIC SOCIETY

Top row: Eleanor Flagg, Russell Carpenter, Victor Reed, Ralph Jacobs, Ralph Briggs, Henry Parker, June Mathewson, Miss Le Fevre, adviser.

Bottom row: Cornelia Wales, Aleida Stomps, Georgine Sinclair, Martha Ellis, Janice Haskard, Marion Neagle, Betty Wales, Carolyn Rosenkrans, Mary Louise Chirojane.

"Try that scene once again" . . . "Just a little more expression in that last line" . . . "All right now, act as if you really mean what you're saying." Oh yes, all these and many more are familiar sentences to the ears of the members of the dramatic club. Under the capable supervision of Miss Ruth LeFevre, students have come into the club, to leave perhaps not as professionals, but at least with the ability to put drama across on the stage.

The club plans and presents programs, advertises various enterprises, occasionally attends professional performances, secures speakers on the stage, and engineers the all-school productions. But the main object of the club is to give people who are even slightly gifted dramatically a chance to show and improve their ability. The chairman of the club this year was Georgine Sinclair.

SENIOR HI-TRI

First row: M. Ellis, J. Neale, D. Rothberg, M. McGee.

Second row: E. Grimmer, Miss Glendenning, adviser; R. Lytle, J. Mathewson, A. Drake, M. Wheeler.

First row: E. Grimmer, C. Andrews, M. Cushing, J. Robertson, J. deRevere, M. Ellis, D. Rothberg.

Second row: Bea Kulthau, J. Neale, M. Webb, P. Smith, B. Everill, M. Johnson.

Third row: C. Courtney, W. MacClarence, W. Awe, W. Carson, B. Moore, N. Hobbit.

(Not in picture): Ray Hoffman, J. Jensen, A. Stomps, B. Kriney, L. Coyle.

This Way, Please!

They don't have as easy a job as many people believe. No, it is hard work to seat expeditiously 2,000 people!

Miss Gertrude Moody, in charge of the ushers, has a special system of selecting girl and boy ushers. To every home room a blank is sent to be signed by anyone who would like to be an usher. Then this list is sent around to all the students' respective teachers for approval. When it at last gets back to Miss Moody, she selects those names which were rated highest.

Then these fortunate few go to work! They step right in their predecessors' places and take charge of the assemblies. At commencement the new ushers have complete charge—adding much to the success of the night, as well as all other programs by their cooperation and reliability.

Senior Hi-Tri

Plainfield Senior Hi-Tri had a very successful year under the leadership of Miss Edith Glendenning, new Girl Reserve secretary.

The year began with a cabinet conference with North Plainfield Senior Hi-Tri cabinet at Camp Shadyside. The most important programs of the year were: faculty supper, Arthur Morton's fashion show, Christmas program, stunt-nights, speakers, the banquet, the interclass supper, and the North Jersey Girl Reserve conference which was held in Plainfield with Plainfield, North Plainfield, and the Branch Hi-Tris as hostesses. It was at that time that the water pageant was given under the leadership of Dorothy Rothberg, directed by Miss Lois Plum.

... Hot Off The Press

"Is the copy back from the printers?" "Where's my head?" The typewriters volley, paste and scissors fly, and headlines are dashed off as The Entree is put to bed every two weeks—and the staff relax to await Friday and enjoy watching the school devour the main dish, The Entree, during lunch periods.

Of course, The Entree wants to be modest—so why discuss the "medalist" award, the highest rating offered by the Columbia Scholastic Press Association for papers in school of 1500 to 2500 enrollments? This year was the first time The Entree had received this honor, placing it among the 12 highest papers in the country!

And then there was the scent! The delicious aroma of perfume met the nostrils of the school when the Easter issue rolled off the press April 10 in color. The year was highlighted by novelties in make-up, art work, and articles, with a special Christmas insert of two pages of feature material in the blue and gray holiday issue, and the special April Fools' Day "Demitasse", a miniature page printed in smaller type on the feature page and containing humorous material.

Marie Coletta headed the staff during the first semester and Helen Goodwin was editor-in-chief for the second semester. Charles Bronston was advertising manager and Robert Butler circulation manager. Advisers included: Mr. Carl K. Bomberger, journalism; Miss J. Eleanor Johnstone, circulation; and Mr. A. Hamilton Otto, advertising.

Entree editorial staff:

Entree advertising staff:

Entree circulation staff:

Hi-Y Club

A group of 25 high school boys, Hi-Y attempts to develop better citizenship, leadership, and sportsmanship among the members and their companions.

Gymnastic work is done in the "Y", with Bible reading and general discussions. Both private and "open" dances were given this year.

Dean George Smith is the adviser of the club. This year's president was Donald Adams; vice-president, Wayne La Poe; secretary, William Moore; treasurer, William Brown; and Chaplain, John Marion.

First row—seated—A. Aitken, R. Butler, B. Brown, treasurer; D. Adams, president; B. Dorman, R. Briggs.

Second row—M. Grant, B. Norman, B. Dillingham, J. Pearson, T. Koons, B. Vincent, W. LaPoe, vice president.

Third row—B. VanBuren, G. Carter, B. Webb, A. Posbergh, B. Starkweather, H. Baker.

Better Than A Circus!

No, that's not a circus, that's the Leaders' Club. Over there on the parallel bars is Thomas Quarles, the president, and the vice president, Russ Reidinger. Phil Weisbecker and Bruce Kriney, secretary and assistant secretary, are somewhere in that mass of tumblers on the mats. The treasurer and assistant treasurer, Ray Reidinger, and Walter Battistella are flying through the air with the greatest of ease on the flying rings; while Dr. Day and the chaplain, Gordon Walsh are over there keeping their eyes on the boys.

Gymnastics, though a very large part of the boys' program, is not the only important feature of it. Each week a half hour class is conducted in Bible study and also one on the theory of physical education.

Memorabilia . . .

That thrilling first day four fleeting years ago when we bravely and boldly entered the portals of PHS to do or die . . . those first confusing meals eaten in the cafeteria . . . Mr. Dunavan's physiography class (and the time he used too much muscle in opening an oxygen tank) . . . The strike and how we entered into it although we really knew very little about it . . . How a 2W class took a great liking to water pistols . . .

The day Lois O'Neill came from Manasquan (and soon) a different girl was out a date every week-end . . . June absences, and sun tans . . . Mr. Beers' Physics class: his infernal machines, quizzes and his advice "You don't get something for nothing." . . . Jake Callahan threatening to sic moths on MacClarence's kilt . . . Mr. Hauck's patient sufferance of young love . . .

The rising of the mortality rate when the whole J. F. F. club got their licenses . . . Mr. Garthwaite's explanation of the fourth dimension: getting the seeds out of an orange without breaking the skin . . . The Math team (Harry Rhodes, Bill Rothfuss, Bill MacClarence, and Wilbur Gundlach) trimming 36 schools and coming home with a gold cup . . . Dutch Schmidt rushing off the bench in a basketball game and scoring — for Linden . . .

Bill Barry leaving school and joining the navy . . . Filling out college application and scholarship blanks . . . Hess deserts Hitler . . . The Milestone staff threatens to distribute the book at Christmas time of the following year

Those most sanitary, inconvenient, pressed aluminum luncheon trays . . . Joe Finelli being named first alternate for an Annapolis appointment . . . Mickey Foley's beautiful football block for a Linden man about to score from third base . . . Newcomers falling for the dusty elevator gag . . . The guffaws of Adele de Vitalis, Wally Fleming, and Tom Quarles . . . All the cigars handed out by Mr. Daum, Mr. Held, and Mr. Pearcey in celebration of the new arrivals to their families . . .

The new white library passes (which effectively reduced the number of cuts) . . . Tommy Dorsey, Glen Miller, and Jimmy Dorsey being voted the three most popular orchestras by PHS students . . . The skeleton in Mr. Hubbard's biology lab, which has proved to be an attentive student for several years . . . Procrastination, which Miss Hague declares seniors become very adept at after four years of practice . . . Stanley Saunders asking Mr. Kistler what H_2O_2 is used for and being told, "For bleaching hair," but not to use it on his skull because it also bleaches ivory . . .

Betty Wales in that "slinky" red evening dress escorted by Wayne La Poe, all tuxedoed-up in the junior play . . . When Wilbur Gundlach acted as a combination campaign manager-and-opponent for Bill Rothfuss in the senior elections . . . Irving Perlmutter's proof in the declamation contest that sooner or later the hen-pecked husband wins out . . .

One April Fool's Day when Nelly Wales was informed by Dan Shewman that there was a tack on her chair and ignored the advice in the best manner . . . result: a red face, laughter and hurt feelings . . . The 310 Brain-and-Muscle club, coached by Miss Johnstone . . . "Banker" Albert Trabilsey, his head, and his capable nemeses, Nick "The Greek" Medrocostis, and Al "pudgy" Ryno . . .

The clean sweep scored over North Plainfield this year by our Cardinal Raiders . . . The formidable competition afforded the senior girls by sophomore pulchritude . . . Mr. Bomberger's subtle but ineffective quips to his staff . . . The awed expression of some juniors when a seasoned senior, one Frank Ackerman, taught them the gentle art of matching pennies . . . The charmed few whom the measles did not catch up with . . . Wilbur Gundlach's car breaking down on the way home from a Hi-Tri dance . . .

. . . Predictions: valedictorian, Harrison Rhodes; and salutatorian, Marjorie Webb . . . The eventual realization that four years isn't such a long time, after all . . . Our goodbyes as we all part for different walks of life, remembering what a swell place PHS was . . . So long, seniors! . . .

The Student Council, an organization of the students, by the students, and for the students, was designed primarily in order that they might have a voice in their school government.

Its aims are chiefly to promote a better spirit and attitude throughout the school; to regulate the laws which govern the student body; and to work for a democratic solution of school problems.

Every home-room in the building is represented by members who are elected by popular vote.

'What'll It Be, Kids'?

A Christmas preview was given by Santa Claus to the six lucky students above who were so—o good all year long! The little angels are, reading left to right, Edwin Stroh, Betty Taylor, Eloise Schlichting, Nancy Baker, Bill Moore, Kevin Fitzpatrick, and of course in the center 'Old St. Nick'!

In the taking of this photo in a downtown department store much hilarity reigned when Nancy Baker offered to sit on Santa's lap. Edwin Stroh seemed disappointed when he found out that a new 1941 Chevrolet couldn't be in so small a package.
